

Jenah Chandani

Associate, Pensions & Benefits
Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt LLP
Toronto, Ontario

Jenah Chandani is an associate in Osler's Pensions & Benefits Group. She advises on legal and regulatory matters for provincial and federal pension plans. Chandani also supports the group with respect to pension and benefit issues in corporate transactions as well as investment matters for pension funds. Before joining Osler, Chandani was a principal and legal consultant at the Toronto office of one of the leading global human capital and management consulting firms. She advised on a broad range of pension and benefits matters, including pension plan compliance and design, governance, administration, pension division upon spousal relationship breakdown, as well as pension, benefit, and employment issues related to corporate transactions. Chandani earned a J.D. degree from the University of Windsor and is admitted to the bar in Ontario and Alberta.