

Celine Chiovitti, CEBS

Chief Pension Officer
OMERS
Toronto, Ontario

Celine Chiovitti is the chief pension officer at OMERS. She is responsible for leading a team of over 400 employees in the delivery of exceptional services, innovative tools and prudential pension administration for more than 644,000 members. Under her leadership, the team is committed to delivering a world-class pension platform, in a complex stakeholder environment, with more than 1,000 employers and 30 unions and associations. Celine joined OMERS in 2013. Prior to joining OMERS, she spent her career in public service, including as a division head at the City of Toronto, where she was responsible for pension, payroll, and benefits delivery for over 35,000 unionized and non-unionized employees. Her career has been focused on service, making a positive impact on the lives of Ontarians and the fundamental belief in the value of well-run pension systems and the positive impact they have on society. Celine is a Certified Employee Benefit Specialist® (CEBS®) and an ISCEBS Fellow. She is a member of the OMERS executive leadership team and OMERS transaction approval committee. Celine sits on the benefits and pensions monitor editorial advisory board. Celine has been ranked one of Canada's Most Powerful Women: Top 100 by the Women's Executive Network and was named to the Benefits and Pensions Monitor's 2024 Hot List.