

Elizabeth Entin, MPH, RD

Director of Consultant Relations
Noom Health
Washington, D.C.

Liz Entin is Director of Consultant Relations at Noom Health, where she leads partnerships with the nation's leading benefits consulting and brokerage firms to help employers access evidence-based, behavior-change-driven solutions for weight and metabolic health. A registered dietitian with a Master of Public Health, Liz brings a clinical and public health perspective to conversations about GLP-1 management, chronic condition support, and whole-person health. Her work focuses on helping consultants and their clients move from cost containment to long-term care strategy.
