

Shawn Gilligan

Vice President, North America Research and Strategy
QuadReal Property Group
Toronto, Ontario

Shawn Gilligan joined QuadReal in July 2017. As vice president of North America research and strategy, he leads a research team focused on strategic analysis and global macroeconomic trends in support of QuadReal's investment objectives within Canada and the U.S. With over 12 years of experience in analyzing economic conditions and their implications for North American real estate markets, Shawn brings a deep understanding of the factors driving real estate market performance to the development of QuadReal's investment strategies. Prior to joining QuadReal, he held various leadership positions managing teams of researchers specializing in macroeconomic forecasting and real estate investment markets in North America. He began his career at the Martin Prosperity Institute, an economic think tank at the University of Toronto's Rotman School of Management. Shawn holds a master's degree from York University and a bachelor of arts degree with honours from the University of Toronto.
