

Lori LeDrew

Executive Director
Office to Advance Women Apprentices
Newfoundland and Labrador
Paradise, Newfoundland and Labrador

Lori LeDrew is the executive director for the Office to Advance Women Apprentices Newfoundland and Labrador. She is a strong advocate for diversity, equity and inclusion in the workplace. With a career marked by dedication and innovation, she has been a driving force in the field. Lori is a seasoned professional with over two decades of expertise in career development. She has worked on both the front line and in management in the nonprofit sector to affect systemic change, opening doors for marginalized individuals seeking equitable employment. Lori currently serves on several advisory committees with industry stakeholders at the national and provincial levels. She offers invaluable insights and experiences, bridging the gap between career development and the fostering of inclusive, supportive environments for women throughout their apprenticeships in underrepresented skilled trades. Lori holds a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from Memorial University of Newfoundland and has recently completed the Advanced Leadership Program through the Gardiner Centre's Faculty of Business Administration. Lori is passionate about amplifying women's voices to combat gender discrimination in the workplace.
