

Matthew McCormick

Vice President, Growth Strategy
TALON Healthtech
Portsmouth, New Hampshire

Matthew McCormick is vice president, growth strategy at TALON Healthtech, where he focuses on developing partnerships with third-party administrators and benefit advisors to promote radical price transparency and health care consumerism. Throughout his time at TALON, he has advanced his expertise concerning price transparency efforts, both on the state and federal level, as well as his extensive understanding of health care consumer behavior. Previously, he worked in the property and casualty space at Liberty Mutual before transitioning to the health insurance space. He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of New Hampshire.
