

Caitlin S. Onomastico

Senior Counsel
Groom Law Group, Chartered
Washington, D.C.

Caitlin is a trusted legal advisor to some of the nation's most sophisticated ERISA-covered institutional investors, including the pension plans for major organizations across multiple industries and several large state retirement systems. She primarily advises pension plans, pension investment consultants, and investment managers in negotiating investments in private equity funds, hedge funds, collective investment trusts, separately managed accounts, and other investment vehicles. Caitlin also advises financial institutions, broker-dealers, and investment advisor clients on their obligations under federal securities laws, retirement laws and self-regulatory organizations. She brings a rare combination of ERISA fiduciary expertise, investment management insight, and business acumen shaped by prior leadership roles in financial services firms and in big law.
