

Renata Strause

Associate

Trister, Ross, Schadler & Gold, PLLC
Washington, D.C.

Renata Strause is an associate at Trister, Ross, Schadler & Gold, PLLC, where she advises labor unions, charitable and advocacy organizations, and other firm clients on all aspects of their operations. She joined the firm in 2021 after working for five years as associate general counsel of the AFL-CIO, where she principally advised the federation on matters relating to campaign finance, voting rights and election administration, and data and technology contracts. Prior to her time at the AFL-CIO, Strause clerked for federal district court judge Hon. Keith P. Ellison. Before law school, she worked for the House Judiciary Committee's oversight team and as a consultant assisting candidates, PACs and labor unions with FEC compliance.
